4. The following is a listing of the various departments of the Bundessekretariat, and the department heads where known:

a. International Relations Department:

The department chief was Luise Ernst. One of her five colleagues in this department was Lucie Lowag. This department is under the direct jurisdiction of First Chairwoman Thiele. Its main duties included the handling of accommodations for foreign delegations and the maintenance of relations with foreign women's organizations. This department had no noticeable influence on the organizing of women's delegations for trips abroad. Recommendations were discussed in the Secretariat; however, the decision understandably rested with the Central Committee.

b. Finance and Business Department

As of August 1954, this department had no chief.

c. Agitation Department

The department head was Marianne Scholz

25X1

There was a total of four political functionaries in the department. 25X1

d. Labor and Health Affairs Department

This department was dissolved in 1952. Up to that time, the department head had been Erna Schaefer.

e. Training Department

The department head was Edith Liebig. Also working in this department was Friedel Bube. This department is responsible for the publishing of the functionaries' periodical Lernen und Handeln. In this connection, Hsela Glaeser acts as editor-in-chief. 25X1

f. Cadre Department

No information available.

g. Department for All-Germany

The department head was Milli Boehlke

25X1

h. Organization Instructor Department

Department head was Emma Schmann. Sector included; organization, instructors, information, organizational set-up, membership books, and statistics.

i. Press and Radio Department

In this department are employed three women whose duty it is to maintain liaison between the DFD and the press and radio. It is not however within the scope of this department's duties to direct the publication Frau von Heute or other direct press work of the organization. Control of the periodical of the DFD rests in the hands of the Agitation Department. Margot Reuter is the responsible secretary for this also.

k. Culture and Education Department

The department head was Erna Kran-Lierse.

- l. Attached organizationally to the Bundessekretariat is the Secretariat of the German Collective for the Protection of Children, headed by Liselotte Otting, IDP (Liberal-Demokratische Partei) member.

5. Except for Erna Schaefer, Liselotte Otting, and Wilhelmine Schiremer-Proescher, who came to the Haus der Frau only once weekly (usually Monday) to attend the meeting of the Secretariat, all of the employees of the Bundessekretariat were members of the SED.

Personalities

6. Ilse Hiele<sup>1</sup>: Her husband, allegedly an electrician by trade, was said to be employed as a cadre chief in the administration in a Berlin Bezirk. During the last years of the war, Ilse and her husband had lived in Luebeck and moved to Berlin in 1946. She has two children.
7. Wilhelmine Schirmer-Proescher: IDP (Liberal-Demokratische Partei) member; native of Berlin; member of the Democratic Party up to 1933; lived in Berlin-Tempelhof until 1949; owner of a pharmacy (Drogerie). She lost both her husband and her son during World War II.
8. Margot Reuter: [redacted] member of the Bundesvorstand of the DFD since 1949; member of the Secretariat since 1952; in 1954 was a member of the National Council of the National Front. She is married to Karl-Ernst Reuter of the Central Committee of the SED. She came from the FDJ and was active in the "Junge Pioniere" Section of the FDJ Central Council until 1949. In early 1954, she was supposed to attend a one-year course at the Party Academy (Parteihochschule). Nevertheless, she was refused because of her petit-bourgeois background. 25X1
9. Elli Bergerer: [redacted] comes from proletarian circles; her father still works as a mason. She is single, living with her parents in the Stalinallee. She was formerly a laborer herself, but has been a member of the DFD since its founding and a member of the Secretariat since 1951. She had worked in the department which she now heads before 1951. She is also a member of the BFD-Leitung. 25X1
10. Lucie Eggebrecht: [redacted] she comes from proletarian circles and is considered the sharpest member politically of the Bundessekretariat. She is married, and has two children of her own, besides three adopted children. Her husband is a department chief in the Reichsbahn. 25X1
11. Hilde Naumann: [redacted] the Bundessekretarin for Culture until June 1954. She had worked in this capacity since the fall of 1953. Prior to that, she had been active in the Bezirk organization in Dresden, to which office she has returned. 25X1
12. Doris Roth: [redacted] successor to Naumann. From 1949 to 1951 she was a department head in the Landesvorstand Sachsen (DFD). Subsequent to that, she studied sociology in Leipzig, graduating in 1954. 25X1
13. Dora Pape: [redacted] comes from very simple circles; certainly has no professional training; member of the DFD since its founding. From 1959 she was active in main office work in the DFD in Sachsen. After the administrative reform, she became First Secretary of the DFD in Bezirk Karl-Marx-Stadt. She has been a member of the Secretariat since 1953. 25X1
